NB: If the cruise date above says 'CHARTERED' then it has been booked by a dive group, club or agent. Please contact us and we can usually put you in touch with the agent to confirm their availability; but be aware that it may already be 'FULL', or if it's a private group booking then it is NOT open to any enquiries (but we will do our best to find you an alternative suggestion).

We will do our best to reply to your message within 24-48 hours (dependant on time-zone and internet access if traveling or remote location). Thanks for your patience.

* Regarding our SPECIAL CRUISES, please be aware that should there be an unexpected changes to the special guests' availability then an alternative photographer/biologist will be arranged. For booking agents, please be aware that the commission on special cruises is capped.

Arenui Schedule

When it comes to our annual schedule, the Arenui has chosen the best dive sites based on the best times of year to explore these world famous destinations. In addition to visiting all the usual popular diving sites of Indonesia we have also included other world-class destinations, which are often overlooked by recreational diving operators.

In the future, we have plans to visit new destinations and we are always open to suggestions for new itineraries. If you are interested in chartering the Arenui for a group, then we can discuss new combinations to suit your preferred destinations.

OUR ANNUAL CYCLE:

- From MAY to OCTOBER we cruise the Komodo National Park area, taking in dive sites and landscapes from Bali right across to Flores and Alor, which can be dived all year round.
- Then in NOVEMBER we move towards Ambon in Maluku and the Spice Islands in the Banda Sea, working our way to the Raja Ampat area of Western Papua (the the world 'epicentre of marine biodiversity').
- Our cruises continue in Raja Ampat from DECEMBER through until APRIL, before traveling back towards Alor and Komodo National Park (one of the 'New7Wonders of Nature').

Starting in 2014, we will also be visiting the 'Forgotten islands', a remot archipelago in the south-east Moluccas (Maluku Tenggara) with a visit to the po of Saumlaki (capital of the Tanimbar Islands).
